DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-5, drawn to a product, classified in class 175, subclass 107.
  - II. Claim 6, drawn to a method, classified in class 285, subclass 333.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the process of claim 6 can be performed with a different product, such as a symmetrical thread profile.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

During a telephone conversation with Juanita Salazar on 10/27/2005 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-5. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claim 6 is withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Drawings

3. Figures 4 and 5 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

4. The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

5. There is no claim number 4. Misnumbered claim 5 has been renumbered claim

4. Misnumbered claim 6 has been renumbered claim 5.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3672

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 1-5 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kessler.

With respect to claim 1, Kessler teaches an unsymmetrical thread profile used to connect stator housings of a positive displacement motor (the unsymmetrical thread profile as disclosed by Kessler is capable of being used to connect stator housings of a positive displacement motor), comprising: one or more load bearing flanks angled with respect to the longitudinal axis of the thread profile at a first angle (see figure 5); one or more non-load bearing flanks angled with respect to the longitudinal axis of the thread profile at a second angle (see figure 5 and page 3 paragraph [0066]); and a root radius between the non-load bearing flanks and the load bearing flanks (see figure 5 and page 3 paragraph [0065]); wherein the second angle is less than the first angle such that the root radius is greater than the root radius of a symmetrical thread profile having substantially the same pitch and first angle (see figure 5 and page 3 paragraph [0065] and page 4 paragraph [0068]).

With respect to claim 2, Kessler discloses an unsymmetrical thread profile wherein the thread profile is a pin-side profile (see page 2 paragraph [0030]).

With respect to claim 3, Kessler discloses an unsymmetrical thread profile wherein the thread profile is a box-side profile (see page 2 paragraph [0030]).

Art Unit: 3672

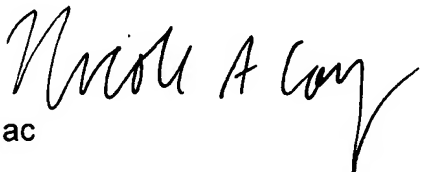

With respect to claim 5, Kessler discloses a method of providing a larger root radius for a thread profile, comprising: providing a load bearing flank having a first angle (see figure 5); and providing a non-load bearing flank having a second angle less than the first angle (see figure 5 and page 3 paragraph [0066]).
